

PRIVACY POLICY

This privacy policy sets out how PC Investigations Limited uses and protects any information that you give PC Investigations Limited when you use this website.

Pc Investigations Limited is committed to ensuring that your privacy is protected. Should we ask you to provide certain information by which you can be identified when using this website; you can be assured that it will only be used in accordance with this privacy statement.

PC Investigations Limited may change this policy from time to time by updating this page. You should check this page from time to time to ensure that you are happy with any changes. This policy is effective from 9th May 2011.

What we collect

We may collect the following information:

- name and job title
- contact information including email address and address.
- any other information you voluntarily provide.

What we do with the information we gather

We require this information to understand your needs and provide you with a better service, and in particular for the following reasons:

- Internal record keeping.
- We may use the information to improve our products and services.
- We may periodically send promotional emails about new products or services which we think you may find interesting using the email address which you have provided.

Security

We are committed to ensuring that your information is secure. In order to prevent unauthorised access or disclosure, we have put in place suitable physical, electronic and managerial procedures to safeguard and secure the information we collect online. Our dedicated Whistle Blowing web site is protected by SSL employing full 128-bit encryption issued by the universally trusted Thawte certificate authority. No cookies or personal information is stored online and will not attempt to trace the source of any disclosure.

Statistical Information

This website does not use cookies to store any personal info. This website does use Google Analytics for statistical purposes only. We do not use this data to identify you personally. For more information about Google Analytics please visit <http://www.google.com/analytics/>

.

Links to other websites

Our website may contain links to other websites of interest. However, once you have used these links to leave our site, you should note that we do not have any control over that other website. Therefore, we cannot be responsible for the protection and privacy of any information which you provide whilst visiting such sites and such sites are not governed by this privacy statement. You should exercise caution and look at the privacy statement applicable to the website in question.

Controlling your personal information

We will only use your personal information to contact you if you have requested us to do so. We will not use your personal information for any form of marketing.

We will not sell, distribute or lease your personal information to third parties.

PC Investigations Limited is registered with the Information Commissioners Office under registration number Z2238814 and secures all data in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998. You may request details of personal information which we hold about you under the Data Protection Act 1998. A small fee will be payable. If you would like a copy of the information held on you please write to PC Investigations Limited, 5 Falkenham Road, Kirton, Suffolk, IP10 0NP.

If you believe that any information we are holding on you is incorrect or incomplete, please write to or email us as soon as possible, at info@pcemail.co.uk. We will promptly correct any information found to be incorrect.